Classroom B-123 in Building B

Abstract

The lecture will present Dr. Suk-Hee Yun's professional experience with her students' works. The architectural dialogues of this presentation will signify design processes registering one in the world or how one comes into a being. Architectural dialogues are always occupied with questions after questions on fragments of time and space at the present. Architectural dialogues are also start with experiencing all fragmented architectural elements to be integrated. As an architect, and after a series of experimentations on materials and perceptions which we have learnt of how to train our skilled hands, mental imaginations and architectural dreams as always lead us to have been nothing but architectural dialogues.
